Fifteen Hundred Soldiers From Interior Reach
Caracas--All News Delayed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Caracas, Dec. 22.—Via Ponce, Porto Rico. There has been no repetition in this city of the anti-Castro demonstration that was noticeable on the 14th and 15th of the present month.

Cabinet Is Out.
However the enforced resignation of the cabinet which occurred yesterday is regarded as going far toward settling the fate of the absent President as a leader of Venezuelan affairs. Gomez is in complete control.

Makeup of New Cabinet.
The new cabinet is composed as follows:

Minister of Education—Linares Alcantara.
Minister of Foreign Affairs—Gonzalez Guinand.
Minister of Finance—Munoz Tebar.

Troops Arrived.
The change in the cabinet only occurred after some fifteen hundred soldiers had arrived in the city from the interior who were loyal to Gomez and whom he could depend upon implicitly.

Much Activity.
There is much activity among the different divisions of the troops and soldiers are being recruited up to fighting strength on every hand. It is believed the men of the interior will be loyal to Castro.

Much Unrest.
Williamstad, Dec. 22.—The reports brought here today by a steamer indicate that the political outbreak in Venezuela against President Castro last week has been followed by other developments showing a continuance of unrest in the country.

Reverse Rulings.
The new Venezuelan administration has revoked the decree prohibiting the transshipment at Williamstad of goods destined for Venezuelan points.

May Bring Peace.
This means has been the principal difficulty in the strained relations between Holland and Venezuela and its revocation is regarded as meaning practically the settlement of the dispute between the two governments.

Downfall Complete.
Cranes, Dec. 21, via Williamstad.—The downfall of Castro in Venezuela was completed on Saturday last with the frustration of a desperate plot to assassinate acting president Gomez.

Files Accusation.
A prominent lawyer has filed an accusation in a high federal court charging Castro with complicity in an attempted assassination, and proposing his impeachment.

REMARKABLE REPORT WILL BE PUBLISHED

Was Made by Bavarian Cabinet to Secret Session of Diet on King's Madness.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Berlin, Dec. 22.—To justify the incarceration of King Ludwig II. of Bavaria as a madman in 1886, a few days before he drowned himself in the Lake of Starnberg, publication has been begun in Munich of a remarkable report made by the Bavarian cabinet to a secret session of the Diet. This report gives new details of the eccentricities which led to his Majesty's dethronement.

From his earliest childhood King Ludwig evinced signs of insanity, as did his brother the still living and insane King Otto. Ludwig began to assume command in 1864 through his disinclination to receive foreign rulers or diplomats. Later he developed a delirium of meeting people, decided to attend church, and built himself a luxurious private chapel. King Ludwig, the report goes on to state, desired to exchange his kingdom of Bavaria for the island of Cyprus. He had given orders to find a country where absolutist government was possible. The order was carried out, and the King caused a letter to be written to the Turkish Sultan offering to exchange Bavaria for Cyprus.

It was his Majesty's unparalleled extravagance which finally caused his dethronement. He spent millions of dollars in building gorgeous castles, and embellishing them in the most costly style. He constantly demanded increases in the civil list and demanded or ordered the arrest of ministers who declined to carry out his wishes.

in country homes because they are displaced with the ways of the "city youth." In the latest movement in extension work, it has been adopted by a half dozen handsome Des Moines girls under the leadership of Miss Ethel Wall.

Away, they say, with the frail youth with puffed trousers and padded coat shoulders. They want the society of men of real brawn, brain and heart.

Their first excursion was this week to the country home of Miss Wall's parents near Dorwick. There some of the country youth had been invited in for the evening and the girls returned pleased with the experiment.

Not that they intend to entirely boycott city youths, but only to make them understand that they have a higher standard for male associates than those who smoke cigarettes and can only discuss football, baseball and sports.

"We want to know men who are acquainted with the realities of life," said one of the girls. "Of course we are all too young and are not contemplating marriage, but we want to be in the society of men who are real workers and real economists. We are tired of the foppishness of many of the city youths."

Then the girls are studying domestic science and preparing to be as well informed about home as worldly affairs. They want an improvement in society. They long for the hero who stammers and blanches before the girl's smiles. They have failed to find him in the city. So they have gone to the country. They expect to make excursions to the rural districts about every two weeks to the homes of friends and will later entertain some of the country boys in town.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST.
Fair tonight; warmer in north and west tomorrow.

THE YEAR'S FARM PRODUCTS.
Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture in his annual report recently issued gives the value of the year's farm products at $7,778,000,000.

This total is four times that of the mineral output. "The value of our farm products in 1908," says Secretary Wilson, "is $1,023,000,000 over that of 1907, $1,409,000,000 above that of 1906, $1,610,000,000 above that of 1905, $1,811,000,000 above that of 1904, $1,861,000,000 above that of 1903, $3,061,000,000 above the census amount of 1899.

"During the 10 years the wealth production of the farms of this country has exceeded the fabulous amount of $60,000,000,000. A simple series of index numbers shows the progressive movement of wealth production by the farmer in another form. The value of farm products in 1899, the census year, being taken at 10, the value for 1903 stands at 125, for 1904 at 131, for 1905 at 134, for 1906 at 143, for 1907 at 150 and for 1908 at 165.

This array of figures is bewildering, for it hardly seems possible that so much wealth can be produced from the farms of the country.

These values distributed among 64 million producers, represent an average income of $1,227, but more than this it represents homes and contentment for more than one-third the population of the country.

This farming element, which stands for so much in the way of stability, is like a sheet anchor to the nation and there is no danger that the ship of state will drift from her moorings.

Socialism, anarchy and the disturbing elements are confined to the large centers of population, but their comparative strength is light, for with the great agricultural interests are combined the business and commercial interests, inspired with loyalty, and blessed with common sense.

The man who enjoys the title of American citizenship, either by birth or adoption, has occasion to thank God for the heritage, for it is a goodly heritage.

WHAT IT COSTS.
A correspondent for the New Bedford Standard compiles some interesting figures on what it costs to get a man through life. He says:

"You are, perhaps, a young professional man, earning $2,000 a year. You are only thirty-one years of age, and you anticipate, of course, that your income will increase every year. Consider, however, only the bare cost of your own personal maintenance; the money spent in your education, in nursing you through the ills of childhood, the cost of board, lodging, clothing, and other essentials to your health and success. Suppose we take it at an average of $1,000 a year. The insurance company tells you that from its point of view you have another thirty-one years to live. If that is so, when you depart from the world at the age of sixty-two, you will have paid $62,000 for the right to live so long.

"The pauper who begins his days in the workhouse, and ends them there at eighty—for those who depend upon the efforts of others for their support generally do it as long as they can—often he costs at least $12,000 to clothe and house and feed. The man who spends his life in prison costs more, because he has to be more securely housed, and because the cost of catching and convicting him must be added to the cost of keeping him.

will be of but little value to the community.

The chief of police faces it to be continued for at least a year, or until the supreme court disposes of a calendar as long as a ten-cent novel, and the city will continue to suffer. It will take a new council to straighten the matter out.

Santa Claus helpers are working overtime this year in efforts to bring joy and gladness to many hearts and homes.

Buy a Red Cross stamp and help to swell the fund for fighting the white plague. The campaign closes the first of January.

The president don't propose to take the dust from anybody, and especially from a covey of American school girls.

Only two days more for Christmas shopping.

MANY INQUIRIES AS TO SANTA'S LETTERS.
Persons Who Read the Wants of Little People Much Interested in Them.
Many persons who read the Santa Claus letters published in the Gazette last Saturday have made inquiry as to the addresses of several of the writers and it is anticipated that some of the little people's faith in good old St. Nick will be redoubled Christmas morning when they find just what they asked for when they got up. Although the mail bag is officially closed the following letter finds place with the rest.
Dear Santa Claus:
We are twin brothers 8 years old. We help our papa do chores every day. We were very good boys for the last year. We go to school every day. please bring us a express wagon, and bring us each a watch and two story books, and two horses and carts, and a game, that all. So don't forget it a beg white house it the second house bust the blind school.

A BUSY DENTIST

A lady patient from a neighboring city, in my office the other day, said: "What a steady stream of patients you have coming and going. My sister, for whom you have been working lately, told me, 'She never saw anything like it.'"

This is strictly true. In this, the 8th year of my practice in Janesville, I certainly have more people who seem pleased to allow me to take care of their dental needs than I ever had before.

This won't not be true in this age of the survival of the fittest if I did not deliver the goods.

I honestly endeavor to do the very best work, and am glad to see that the effort is appreciated.

I believe I save 5-10 of the pain of Dentistry.

And you will believe it also if you consult me for your dental work.

Seven Pittsburg Councilmen
Are Under Arrest.

TWO BANKERS ALSO NABBED

Bribery and Other Corrupt Practices
Are Alleged in Connection with Establishment of Depositories for the Funds of the City.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 22.—Seven members of councils were arrested Monday night at the instance of the Voters' league, a civic reform organization, charged with conspiracy, corrupt practices and bribery in connection with municipal legislation during the past two years. They were released on bail.

Alleged acts in connection with the establishment of depositories for the funds of the city are enumerated in the complaints against the councilmen.

Later in the night W. W. Ramsey, president, and A. A. Vilsack, cashier of the German National bank, were arrested on charges of bribery in connection with establishing a city depositary. They immediately gave bail.

Charles A. Pagan, vice-president of the bank, in a statement late Monday night announced that the directors, immediately upon learning of the charges,
had discharged the officers and that the bank in no way affected by their alleged acts.

Three Charges of Bribery.

Following a series of veiled charges and innuendoes, references to councilmanic acts, the Voters' league, several months ago, employed detectives, and the arrests are based on the reports made by the detectives. The complaints were signed by Thomas de Wolf, secretary of the league. Three of them, against J. C. Wasson, chairman of the finance committee of common council, and John P. Klein of that committee, and William Brand, president of common council, charge each of these men with giving and offering to give money and other rewards and bribes to influence the votes of other members of councils in favor of ordinances and resolutions designating depositories for the funds of the city, of which there are five;
bridge ordinances, bond ordinances to provide free bridges, ordinances providing additional filter beds for the water system; ordinances for the Hobertown Street Railway Company, a resolution for the paying of a part of Fourth avenue with wood blocks, and other ordinances and resolutions not specifically named.

Corruption Charged in Others.

Another complaint names the three above mentioned, together with T. O.
Atkinson of select council; Jacob Sof-
fel, W. H. Melaney and Hugh Ferguson, of common council, and charges them with conspiracy to secure by corrupt and unlawful means and by bribery of other members of the two branches of councils, of the measures enumerated in the first charge, and also to control and dominate the committees and chairmen of committees in charge of the measures mentioned. It is also charged that they did control the vote and support of other members through bribery and other corrupt practices.
David D. Watson, Patterson, Storrett & Acheson, Willis F. McCook, W. H.
Shiras and A. Leo Well, leading members of the Allegheny county bar, besides approving the bringing of the charges based upon the reports of the detectives, are said to have volunteered their services in the prosecution thereof without fees.

"With the exception of the San Francisco graft cases," said a member of the league, "there has never been in this country such a sweeping and such an important proceeding against municipal officers as is involved in this case."

THE NEW GERMAN AMBASSADOR AND THE GERMAN LEGATION
AT WASHINGTON.

Washington—Preparations are being made in the German legation to receive the new ambassador, Count Johann Holnrich Von Bernstorff, and man emperor could have selected a more pleasing representative as his ambassador to America. Count Von Bernstorff is recognized as one of the leading diplomats of the world and comes to America from the German legation in Europe. He succeeds the late Baron Brock Von Sternberg, the point which makes Count Von Bernstorff especially popular in America is that his wife, Countess Von Bernstorff, is an American. She is the daughter of Edward Luckemeyer of New York.

The German legation has always been one of the social centers of diplomatic Washington and their elaborate quarters, beautifully furnished, form one of the show places in our capital city.

The new ambassador began his diplomatic career as attaché at Constantinople. From Turkey he was transferred to the foreign office in Berlin, after

THE MOST INTERESTING CHARACTER IN THE RELIGIOUS WORLD TODAY, REV. AUSTIN W. MANN, DEAF-MUTE MISSIONARY IN THE UNITED STATES.

Cleveland.—Rev. Austin W. Mann is the most interesting missionary in the world today. His work is with the deaf-mutes of the United States. For over 30 years this silent, conscientious Episcopal minister has been about the United States, carrying with him cheer and hope to the deaf-mutes of this country.

It is a strange sight to see a minister stand in the pulpit delivering his message to a congregation who look up at him with rapt attention yet during the entire service no word or sound is heard. With fast flying fingers he brings the same message of Christian service as do the other more fortunate ministers. Certain it is, that no speaker receives more rapt attention than does Rev. Austin Mann. Those people who understand the sign language state that his talks are vitally interesting and highly polished oratorical products.

Mr. Mann was the first deaf-mute ordained west of the Alleghenies, and the second since apostolic days. On January 25, 1877, he was ordained to the ministry of the Episcopal church by Bishop Hedoll at Cleveland, which city is now his headquarters. The only minister ordained before Mr. Mann died some years ago, so that now he is dean of the deaf-mute clergy of America, and the oldest deaf-mute clergyman in the world. In fact, there are but nine of these "silent ministers" in the world.

Mr. Mann has founded "silent missions" in all the large cities of the middle west. In 1880 he held the first service according to the prayer book of the Episcopal church, on the Pacific coast, San Francisco. He has also spoken in New Orleans and the large eastern cities. Besides this, he has spoken in Canada and Great Britain, and has represented the church's mission of deaf-mutes at many conventions. During his ministry of 34 years he has traveled more than 1,000,000 miles to preach in the sign language to his afflicted parishioners.

This "man of silence" was born at Pondleton, Ind., Dec. 16, 1841. Up to the age of 5 years he could hear and speak perfectly and was in normal health, but at this tender age scarlet fever destroyed his hearing and left him so very lame that since that time he has suffered intense pain at every step. He was educated at the Indiana institution for deaf-mutes, in Indianapolis, and later was on the teaching staff of the Michigan Deaf-Mute school at Flint.

The regular Sunday services—and he gets around to such as often as may be—include parishes in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Chicago, Indianapolis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus, Toledo, Youngstown, and, of course his home city.

He serves smaller parishes on week days, going all the time. He has held more than 6,000 services, has officiated in 483 parishes, and his baptisms to date number 1,014. The list of his activities abroad includes London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Belfast, Dublin and Cork, and every state and territory in America has had the benefit of his helpful presence.

Small wonder the bishops of Ohio look upon this traveling missionary with regard and affection.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Lloyd, secretary of the board of missions, says of the work of this noble missionary to the deaf-mutes:

"I am sure that Rev. Mr. Mann's work, apart from the astonishing devotion that has marked it, deserves everything in reason that he can ask of the church. I do not believe any body can measure the influence that silent old men have exerted on men's lives, as they have seen him going up and down in the church, fulfilling his day's work. I have never come in contact with him without feeling ashamed that I should ever have objected to anything that befell me in the day's work; and I have no doubt that my feeling has been experienced by a multitude of others."

Calculating Childhood. It is a curious sign of the times that children nowadays show a remarkable interest in money. They want to know the cost of objects, they love to play with coins, and money seems to be the present they prefer.—Zellung, Vienna.

Teaching Stupidity. Englishmen are traditionally backward in the matter of modern languages, but they are ahead of us Americans. American boys and girls are not more stupid than foreigners—they are simply more stupidly taught in the matter of languages.—New York Nation.

The Country's Need.

"I say," said the old lady with the high-pitched voice, as the jerk-water slowed down at Grigsby station; "I say, what is all this fuss about education? boys to be civil engineers? The thing this 'ere country really needs is a few civil conductors, and less uneasy brakemen."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known for local catarrhs.

Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing the work.

MAY PROVE FATAL.

When Will Janesville People Learn the importance of it?

Backache is only a simple thing at first.

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys:

That serious kidney troubles follow: That diabetes, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

"This the statement of a Janesville citizen.

Mrs. M. Smith, living at 359 Center St., Janesville, Wis., says: "I suffered very severely at times during the past year from attacks of rheumatism and backache. My sides also ached at times and I noticed that the kidney secretions acted too freely. A neighbor told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and sent me the 'Doan's Drug Co.' for a box. My back began to feel better in a short time and the kidney secretions became clear and were voided less frequently. I am feeling so much encouraged, I am going to continue the use of this remedy until cured. I give my name in a public endorsement in order that others suffering similarly may be benefited by using Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Then and Now.

When a young man came a-wooing in the old days, the entire family didn't take to the fire-escape so as to give him a chance. The stern parents stood guard over the girl, and put the lover to his mettle to steal a moment's converse with her, or press her hand in secret. Wherefore, there were many elopements and few old maids.

The man who can't be driven in at the front door with a club to see a girl who is dying to see him, is ready to break his neck climbing up to a window to get a glimpse from a maiden who will maybe look at him, and maybe won't.—Toledo Blade.

Treasure Hoarded in India.

All the world knows that gold, silver and gems are constantly disappearing in India to swell the hidden stores of the people. What no one knows is the accumulated amount. The late Dunning MacLeod estimated that there might be $1,500,000,000 in hidden gold alone. Of silver there may be even more in proportion, as the silver rupee has long been the common money current in India. Of hidden gems to one has ever been bold enough to estimate the value.

Feminine Aggression.

A New York woman tackled a fleeing burglar so successfully that she was dragged through a window and into a yard some feet below. As she did so well on her first attempt, a little practice ought to make her eligible for one of the big football players.

Emphasize to belated Christmas Shoppers the position The Big Store holds as

Janesville's Great Gift Center

A page—in fact several pages of suggestions to gift purchasers could be still made up from our enormous Christmas Stocks. But there would be hardly time to read them. Quick action in filling lists is now imperative. The time for deliberation is limited. Our appreciation of these facts is to be seen everywhere throughout this store.

AMPLE ASSORTMENTS of Gift Goods are to be seen at every turn. They are so arranged as to enable belated purchasers to decide quickly as to selections.

A few moments in this store will suggest the kind of gifts that everyone will be glad to receive—and they need not necessarily be expensive. Perhaps one of the strongest features of our Christmas assortments is the profusion of acceptable gifts to be had at very moderate prices.

In the entire lines there is not an article which will not justify this store's claim to distinctiveness in its gift merchandise, whether the reference be to exclusiveness, to artistic merit, to quality, or to all three of these points.

OUR SELLING FORCE, with the extra salespeople now thoroughly familiar with the many lines, will prove their efficiency by giving prompt and satisfactory service to those who will have to make purchases within these next few days.

OUR DELIVERY SERVICE is now up to the minute in its deliveries. The fact that our immense volume of business has so far been handled with utmost expedition is a guarantee against disappointment in any purchases that will be made before closing time, Thursday—Christmas eve. After that hour we have planned to make quick delivery trips over the entire city.

A Young Artist.
Two gentlemen meeting one day on

said to the other: "Say, Ed, I wish ral that when she threw it in the waste basket, it laid there."—Judge.

Idle Questions.
This may be an age when time is number of noted scholars and speakers have been invited to take part in the exercises to be held at the University of Virginia next month in celebration of the centennial of the birth of Edgar Allan Poe. Poe was graduated at the university in 1836 and that he distinguished himself by marked proficiency in Latin and French and in Italian translation. He left the institution before the time for his graduation to seek his fortune as a poet and journalist.

BOTH WILL DRAW
PATROLMAN'S PAY

COUNCIL ORDERS APPELBY AND BROWN TO BE PAID ON THAT BASIS.

THREATENING LETTER SENT

Anonymous Letter Received by Alderman Dulin—South Main Street to Be Paved.
On motion of Alderman Carlo, last evening at the meeting of the city council, George Appelby, John Brown and Sam Brown were ordered to be paid as patrolmen. The three orders were introduced separately by Mr.
Carlo and were in substance as follows: Order No. 1. That the clerk draw an order on the general fund in the amount of $625 payable to John Brown, being pay as patrolman from April 20, 1938, to January 1, 1939, with the express understanding that if the supreme court should decide that John Brown was not entitled to this amount to apply on his pay as such clerk and also with the understanding that this is not to affect the suit now pending in the supreme court. Order No. 2 ordered the clerk to draw an order payable from the general fund in favor of George Appelby in the amount of $475.50 as pay from April 2, '38, to January 1, '39, with the understanding that this order did not have the effect that the council recognized George Appelby as chief of police and that in case the supreme court should decide in Appelby's favor then this amount was to apply on his pay as such chief.
These two orders were given to the clerk to be introduced from the date of their several elections, up to the first of the year. In addition to this, the two attorneys for the complaintants for the office of chief of police signed a stipulation agreeing that in any way affect the suit now pending in the supreme court. The third order was to pay Sam Brown $208 as pay as patrolman from April 17, '38,
the time of his second appointment, to August 1, '38. These three orders were all passed unanimously by the council.

Report of Commission
The roll call last night showed all the members present with the exceptions of Aldermen O'Hara and Richardson. During the reading of the minutes Alderman O'Hara came in and took his seat. The usual batch of bills were presented and referred and the complaint of Frederickson et al, which had been formally served,
was referred to the judiciary committee. The report of the fire and police commission with regard to the charges against William Mason, which had been preferred by the council and referred to the commission, was presented, and on motion of Ald. Brown the findings of the commission were read. This was to the effect that it had been moved by Dr.
J. and carried by John Brown to have been ordered by John Brown to take the stranger, James, around his shoulder to be exonerated for that, but for leaving his seat and going to At-ton as deputy sheriff he should be reprimanded by the commission.
The report was then referred to the police committee.
Other reports were referred to the proper committees and the council took a recess.

Treasurer's Report.
Following the recess on motion of Ald. Brown of the finance committee, the treasurer's report for the month ending November 30th, was accepted.
The mayor was authorized to borrow $2,500 and the usual batch of bills and salary list was passed.
Judiciary Committee.
On motion of Ald. Dulin, of the judiciary committee the report of the health officer as to removing garbage was accepted. The bond of Ryan & Finley was accepted and the complaint of Frederickson et al was laid on the table. Further time was asked with regard to the petition of about twenty property owners asking for the passage of an ordinance regulating billboards in the city.

Sewerage Committee.

On motion of Ald. Carlo and recommendation of the sewerage committee
the work on the sewer in district No.
5 was accepted and ordered paid for.
Further time was asked by the police committee, on the report of the fire and police commission regarding Mason, and was granted.

Threatening Letter.

Ald. Carlo then presented the three orders regarding payment of the police. During the discussion Ald. Dulin addressed the council and said that he had received an anonymous letter signed "Justice" and threatening him and his family unless he passed the salary order in the police middle at the next council meeting. The letter was dated Nov. 25. Ald. Dulin stated that he had never tried to lend the council and refused to be intimidated that he was morally anxious to find out who was in the right in the matter and where the authority to choose a police chief was vested. If it was vested in the commission then it was alright and the council could choose different men when the commission was next appointed.
The three orders were then passed by the council.
Pave South Main.
Ald. Brown then moved the adoption of an order providing for the paving of South Main street between St. Lawrence avenue and Indian street. The motion, which was passed, ordered the street assessment committee to assess the damage and benefits according to adjoining property owners and the cost of paving the street with brick, within the limits stated, putting in proper curbing and gutters.
On motion of Ald. Dulin the council
then adjourned.

JAGUAR BROKE ITS
CAGE AND ESCAPED

Animal Got Loose in Barn And Held
Back Its Would-Be Captors
For Two Days.

Evansville, Wis., Dec. 21.—Last Friday morning a jaguar owned by Col.
G. W. Hall escaped from its cage in the animal barn and leaped through a hole by twelve glass window into the barn and rushed past several horses and a camel and crouched in a corner of the barn where it resisted all attempts to capture it for two days. As the animal is very dangerous Mr. Hall took every precaution to keep it corralled until he could get it back into the cage and three or four men were kept constantly on guard. It is miraculous that the animal was caged without anyone being injured. The only thing it did was to tear Mr. Hall's clothing but as he was armed with a pitch fork he was able to defend himself.

The marriage of Mr. Arthur Richardson of this city and Miss Juanita

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team

pery condition of the floor and were unable to strike their real gait until near the close of the second half.
The first half ended with the score standing 8 to 16 in Broadhead's favor.
Evansville started the second half with a rush score on the first play.

When Europe Shivered.
The winter of 1858 was very mild in the United States, but particularly severe in Europe. For the first time in the nineteenth century the river Po was frozen over at Ferrara, permitting for a long time the constant passage of men and beast. At Constantinople snow fell constantly for 15 days. The snow extended to Smyrna, the adjacent districts of Asia Minor, and the Greek islands were clothed in white.

Attention.
Attention is the first requisite for making any progress in the acquire-ment of knowledge; it may be given in various degrees, and it rewards according to the proportion in which it is given. A divided attention is, however, more hurtful than otherwise; it retards the progress of the learner, while it injures his mind by improv-er exercise.—George Crabbe.

AFTER THE GRIPPE
Vinol Restored This Man's Strength

"Several years ago I was attacked by a severe case of grippé, which left me with a hacking cough, soreness in my chest, and bronchitis. I took nearly every kind of cough syrup sold on the market, besides medicine given me by physicians.
I received no permanent relief until my druggist asked me to try Vinol, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured.
I believe Vinol to be the greatest blessing ever offered to the public, as it does what is claimed for it." L. E. R.
Hicks, Maplesville, Ala.
The reason Vinol cures chronic coughs, colds and pulmonary troubles is because it contains tonic iron and all the healing and body building elements of cod liver oil but no oil.
Vinol is also unexcelled as a strength builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, and after sickness.

The Land of England.
Twelve thousand seven hundred and ninety-one persons own four-fifths of the soil of England, their aggregate property, exclusive of that within the metropolitan boundaries, being 40,180,775 acres. In point of fact, the number of owners of four-fifths of the English land is nearer 5,000 than 12,000. Of these 500 are noblemen, and four or five of these swallow up the rest.

Together they will shine at many a capital function after Miss Ethel was her coming out. There is a striking facial resemblance between Miss Ethel and her vigorous father, as there is also between Miss Ethel and Miss Allen.

MRS. CHADBOURNE PAYS UP.
Gives Government $82,411 and Gets Smuggled Art Works.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Emily Crane Chadbourne completed the payment of $152,820 to the government Monday, and now has possession of the valuable tapestries and art works seized by customs officials when they were imported from England last July.

Mrs. Chadbourne made a payment of $82,411 following confession of judgment through her representative, H. W. Ashford, member of a firm of customs brokers. The action took place in Judge Landis' court. No attempt was made to contest the case of the government. It is believed Mrs. Chadbourne will now return the property to Mrs. Jack Gardner of Boston to whom the property belongs.

Two Identified as Train Robbers.
Portland, Ore., Dec. 22.—The engineer and fireman of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company's train which was robbed near this city last Thursday night, positively identified Monday Harry Benson and Oscar Johnson as two of the men implicated in that crime. Benson and Johnson, together with Chris Bone, were arrested here on Saturday for holding up a saloon. Bone attempted suicide by hanging in his cell but was unsuccessful.

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Sparks from a fire which Monday night destroyed a barn on the Bloomingdale Asylum property here endangered one of the asylum buildings. UNIVERSITY'S OPPORTUNITIES
EXCEED INCOMEPlans for Greater Activities in Service of State.

Biennial Report of President Van Hise
Shows Needs of Institution—Ex-Governor W. D. Hoard Urges Liberal Support by Legislature.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 23.—That the rapid growth and development of the University of Wisconsin is proving greater than its resources, and that there is urgent need of immediate provision for an increase in its income are shown in the biennial report of President Charles H. Van Hise which is now in press.

The large increase in the attendance during the last two years, together with the prospect of an enrollment of over 4,500 students this year, the report points out, makes necessary an increase in the instructional force, as well as important additions to the buildings and equipment. Ex-Governor W. D. Hoard, president of the regents, in sending the report to Governor Davidson, calls attention to the fact that the opportunities of the university for service in the upbuilding of the state in every way, are still far beyond the institution's resources. "If the requests for additional resources are granted by the legislature," he writes, "it is my belief that in the future, as in the past, the results will more than justify the additional grants."

Needs Larger Income.

To enable the university approximately to meet the most pressing needs in order to perform for the students and the state the work that it should do, President Van Hise shows, will require an increase in the permanent income. He proposes to bring this about by a change from the present two-eighths of a mill tax to three-eighths of a mill tax. This would mean but a very small increase to the individual tax payer, only about 8 cents on a thousand dollars—and the report demonstrates that the returns already made by the university to the people of the state more than justify the belief that this small increase will be returned to them many fold.

More Buildings Necessary.

The permanent educational improvement appropriation of $200,000 a year for a period of five years, President Van Hise proposes should be enlarged to $300,000 a year and extended to seven years, in order to provide for the pressing needs of new buildings, to buy the needed apparatus and books, and to purchase the necessary additional land. "On the basis of $200,000 a year for permanent educational improvements, we are getting farther and farther behind on the construction of needed buildings and other permanent improvements," says the president.

In order to provide for the immediate educational needs of the university there will be required a biology building, a building for the training of teachers, an additional wing to the chemistry building, a medical building, additions to the dairy building, a wing to the soils building, a pumpkin plant, wings for the engineering building, a drill hall, and the completion of tunnels and equipment for the central heating station.

Students Should Have Dormitories.

To carry out satisfactorily the plan of providing dormitories, or halls of residence, for students of the university, the report shows that the present appropriation set aside for the construction of these buildings, which is $100,000 a year for four years, should be increased to $200,000 a year, the increase to take effect July 1, 1909, and the appropriation to be for a period of not less than four years. "With the increase of from 250 to 300 students a year, the construction of dormitories will not keep pace with the growth of the student body, and we shall be farther behind in meeting the real demand of the students for living quarters in the future than we are at the present time."

"If, instead of $100,000 per annum, we have $200,000 per annum for the construction of student buildings for a period of five years, we should be able within a reasonable period to provide homes for a considerable fraction of the students, but certainly for only a portion of those that would gladly have the advantage of living in a hall of residences under the control of the university."

Model School for Teachers' Course.

Another pressing necessity is the further development of the course for the training of teachers and the erection of a building for a model school. "The university should have an elementary and secondary school directly under its charge, in which observation and practice work may be done by university students, and which may also serve as a laboratory for the department of education," writes President Van Hise. A building for a model school will probably cost not less than $150,000.

Medical and Biological Buildings.

The growth of the scientific departments, the report shows, makes imperative the erection of a new building for the biological departments, with temporary quarters for the college of medicine. The erection of a biological building large enough to accommodate the departments of zoology and botany, as well as the medical school departments of physiology, pharmacology, chemistry, pharmacology and toxicology, temporarily, is strongly urged by Dean E. A. Birge and Dean C. R. Bardeen, as well as by President

Van Hise, as one of the most necessary.

While it may be practicable to locate these medical departments in the biological building temporarily, it will be necessary in the near future to construct the medical wing of the biological group of buildings in order to give adequate quarters for the medical department now in the chemical engineering building and also for the departments of bacteriology and pathology and for the hygiene laboratory, all of which are temporarily located in south hall, as well as for the department of anatomy now in science hall. This wing for the accommodation of the college of medicine will cost not less than $150,000.

Engineering College Outgrows Building

The inadequacy of the present buildings of the college of engineering, both for the instruction and the laboratory requirements of the many engineering students, furnishes still further reason for the extension of the educational permanent improvement fund. The present engineering building was constructed when there were about 400 students in engineering; now there are over 900. So rapid has been the growth in the number of engineering students during the last few years, that, if it were not for the fact that President Van Hise believes that it would be advisable to construct at once an entirely new engineering building, which would be adequate to meet the needs of at least 1,200 students of engineering. In consideration of the other very pressing needs of the university, however, it hardly seems possible to construct an adequate engineering building immediately, since such a structure would cost not less than $300,000. Temporarily, to meet the pressing need, two short wings could be added to the present engineering building at a cost of $25,000 each, and the new mining department could find temporary laboratory accommodations in the old central heating plant when the boilers are taken out.

More Land for Pure Bred Grains.

Because the state gains millions of dollars a year as the result of the growing, on farms throughout Wisconsin, of high bred seed raised on the university farm, the report urges that adequate provision be made for farm land upon which to develop these grains. In the past years the university has been able to furnish only a portion of the amount of these pure bred seeds that have been asked for by the farmers of the state. It is certain that the expenditure of money for a sufficient amount of land to furnish all the high grade seed which the farmers of the state request, would be repaid to them many fold. There should, therefore, be available at once $50,000 to purchase land for the agricultural department, this additional land to be used largely for the raising of pure bred seed for dissemination to the farmers of the state.

Poultry and Dairy Needs.

Although for a number of years there have been very numerous requests for instruction in poultry, it has been impossible for the college of agriculture to give this instruction, because the funds available were inadequate to establish this department, and at the same time conduct efficiently the existing departments. Additional income, therefore, is necessary to provide for this much needed line of work. The rapid increase in the number of students in the long courses in agriculture has made it very difficult to provide for their adequate instruction in dairying in the present dairy building. Within the next year the dairy building should be extended to the north. President Van Hise urges, or else the pavilion west of the dairy building should be much enlarged for the students of the long course.

More Demonstrations for Farmers.

The development of the many lines of demonstrating practically to farmers the more effective means of getting results in their work and of preventing needless waste, is likewise dependent upon the increase in the income of the university. For studying the peaty and sandy soils of central Wisconsin, additional permanent sub-stations, President Van Hise shows, are much needed, and could be secured with the necessary buildings and equipment for about $6,000. The demonstration work which has been so successfully carried on and which should be continued, includes such important work as, spraying potatoes for blight; spraying and renovating orchards; plant breeding work in corn, barley, oats and tobacco; weed eradication by iron sulphate; the discussion of bovine tuberculosis, with post mortem demonstrations at county fairs, institutions, etc.; drainage of land; butter and cheese scoring exhibits; the improvement of the horse industry; dairy tests; cranberry work; seed control; northern Wisconsin sub-stations; extension courses at county agricultural schools and elsewhere; as well as nursery, feed, fertilizer, and stallion inspections.

"Any appropriations which the legislature may make for these lines of agricultural extension work go directly to the people of the state," writes President Van Hise. "They are not for the students in attendance at the university, either directly or indirectly."

Increases in Salaries.

During the past few years, the report demonstrates, the cost of living has increased much more rapidly than the salary scale of the university. Harvard, Yale, and the University of Minnesota are cited as examples of institutions where the increased cost of living has already been recognized as the basis of a new scale of salaries.

"There is no question that we must advance our standard of salaries to meet the competition," says President Van Hise in conclusion. "To pursue any other course would degrade the University of Wisconsin to a second-rate institution. Buildings, apparatus, and books are the shells of the university. The men who constitute its faculty are its living force. If these men are not of the highest grade, however complete the equipment, the results of instruction and investigation will be inferior to what the state is demanding."

Gingerbread Barometer.

A reliable barometer has been manufactured out of gingerbread. When it is fair the gingerbread is crisp, but when it is going to rain the "barometer" is soft and spongy. Its designer doesn't tell what to do with the gingerbread when it grows stale, but he probably eats it before then.

CHAPTER XII.

Survival of the Fittest.

THE next four days slipped by almost unheeded. Blake saw to it that not only himself but his companions had work to occupy every hour of daylight. When not engaged in cooking and fuel gathering, Miss Leslie was learning by painful experience the rudiments of dressmaking.

At the start she had all but ruined the beautiful skin of the mother leopard before Blake chanced to see her and took over the task of cutting it into shape for a skirt. But when it came to making a waist of the cub fur, he said that she would have to puzzle out the pattern from her other one. Between cooking three meals a day over an open fire, gathering several armfuls of wood, and making a dress with penknife, thorn, and cut-gut, the girl had little time to think of other matters than her work.

Winthrop had been gossiped as hunter in ordinary. His task was to keep Miss Leslie supplied with fresh eggs and each day to kill as many of the boobies and cormorants as he could skin and split for drying. Blake had changed his mind about taking him when he went for coconuts. Instead, he had gone alone on several trips, bringing three or four loads of nuts, then a little salt from the seashore, dry but very welcome, and last of all a great lump of clay, wrapped in palm fronds.

With this clay he at once began experiments in the art of pottery. Having mixed and beaten a small quantity, he molded it into little cups and bowls, and tried burning them over night in the watch-fire. A few came out without crack or flaw. Vastly elated by this success, he fashioned larger vessels from his clay, and within the week could brag of two pots suitable for cooking stews, and four large nondescript pieces which he called plates. What was more, all had been quick and easy, for he had been quick to observe a glaze on the bottoms of the first pots, and had reasoned out that it was due to the sand which had adhered while they stood drying in the sun.

He next turned his attention to metallurgy. The first move was to search the river bank for the brown bog iron ore which he believed he had won from the further side. After a dangerous and exhausting day's work in the mire and jungle, he came back with nothing more to show for his pains than an armful of creepers. Late in the afternoon, he had located the hematite, only to find it lying in a streak so thin that he could not hope to collect enough for practical purposes.

"Lucky we've got something to fall back on," he added, after telling of his failure. "Pass over those keys of yours, Win. Good! Now untangle those creepers. Tonight we'll take turns knotting them up into some sort of a rope-ladder. I'm getting mighty weary of hoeing it all around the point every time I trot to the river. After this I'll go down the cliff at that end of the gully."

Winthrop, who had become very irritable and depressed during the last two days, turned on his heel, with the look of a frolic child.

To cover this undiplomatic rudeness, Miss Leslie spoke somewhat hurriedly. "But why should you return again to the river, Mr. Blake? I'm sure you are risking the fever; and there must be savage beasts in the jungle." "That's my business," growled Blake. He paused a moment, and added, rather less ungraciously: "Well, if you care, it's this way—I'm going to keep on looking for ore. Give me a little iron ore, and we'll likely soon have a lot of steel knives and arrow-heads that'll amount to something. How're we going to bar anything worth while with bamboo tips on our arrows? Those bear tusks are a fizzle."

"So you will continue to risk your life for me? I think that is very brave and generous, Mr. Blake!"

"How's that?" demanded Blake, not a little puzzled. He was fully conscious of the risk; but this was the first intimation he had received or conceived that his motives were other than selfish—"Um-m! So that's the ticket. Getting generous, eh?"

"Not getting—you are generous! When I think of all you have done for me! Had it not been for you, I am sure you should have died that first day ashore."

"Well, don't blame me. I couldn't have let a dog die that way; and then, a fellow needs a skin Friday for this sort of thing. As for you, I haven't always had the luck to be favored with ladies' company."

"Thank you, Mr. Blake. I quite appreciate the compliment. But now, I must put on supper."

Blake followed her graceful movements with an interest which, in turn, drew Winthrop's attention to himself. The Englishman smiled in a disengaged manner, and resumed his work on the bow, with the look of one mentally preoccupied. After supper he found occasion to spend some little time among the bamboos.

When, at sunset, Miss Leslie, withdrew into the baobab, Winthrop somewhat officiously insisted upon helping her set up her screen in the entrance. As he did so, he took the opportunity to hand her a bamboo knife, and to draw her attention to several double-pointed bamboo stakes which he had hidden under the litter.

"What is it?" she asked, troubled by his furtive glance back at Blake.

"Merely precaution, you know," he whispered. "The ground in there is quite soft. It will be no trouble, I fancy, to put up the stakes, with their points inclined toward the entrance."

"But why?"

"Not so loud, Miss Genevieve! It struck me that if any one should seek to enter in the night, he would find those stakes decidedly unpleasant. Be careful how you handle them. As you see, the sharper points, which are to be set uppermost, run off into a razor edge. Put them up now, before it grows too dark. You know how the points are set—that shape. Good-night! You see, with these to guard the entrance, you need not be afraid to go to sleep at once."

"Thank you," she whispered, and began to thrust the stakes into the ground as he had directed.

He had not been mistaken. The vague doubts and fears which she already entertained would have kept her awake throughout the night, but thanks to the sense of security afforded by the sword-bayonets of her silent little sentries, the girl was soon able to calm herself, and was fast asleep long before Blake awakened Winthrop.

Immediately after breakfast, Blake—who had spent his watch in grinding the edges from a stone and experimenting with split and bent twigs—put Winthrop's keys in the fire, and began an attempt to shape them into a knife-blade. To heat the steel to the required temperature, he used a bamboo blowpipe, with his lungs for bellows.

Winthrop turned away with an indifferent bearing; but Miss Leslie found herself compelled to stop and admire his dexterous use of his rude tools.

One after another, the keys were welded together, end to end, in a narrow ribbon of steel. The thinnest one, however, was not fastened to the tip until it had been used to burn a groove in the edge of a rib, selected from among the bones which Miss Leslie had thrown out of the baobab. The last key was then fastened to the others; the blade ground sharp, tempered, and inserted in the groove. Finally, pieces of the keyring were fitted in bands around the bone, through notches cut in the ends of the steel blade. The result was a bone-handled, bone-backed knife, with a narrow cutting edge of the steel.

Long before it was finished, Miss Leslie had been forced away by the requirements of her own work. In fact, Blake did not complete his task until late in the afternoon. At the end, he spent more than an hour grinding the handle into shape. When he came to show the completed knife to Miss Leslie, he was fairly aglow with justifiable pride.

"How's that for an Eskimo job?" he demanded. "Hunch of koya and a bone, eh?"

"You are certainly very ingenious, Mr. Blake!"

"Nix! There's little of the inventor in my top place—only some hustle and a good memory. I was up in Alaska, you know. Saw a sight of Eskimo work."

"Still, it is very skillfully done."

"That may be—Look out for the edge! It'd do to shave. No more bamboo splinters for me—dull when you hit a piece of bone. I'm ready now to skin a rhinoceros."

"If you can catch one!"

"Guess we could find enough of them around here, all right. But we'll start in on some of Win's sheep and cattle."

"Oh, do! One grows tired of eggs, and all these sea-birds are so tough and fishy, no matter how I cook them."

"We'll sneak down to the pool, and make a try with the bows this evening. I'll give odds, though, that we draw a blank. Win's got the aim, but no drive; I've got the drive, but no aim. Even if I hit an antelope, I don't think a bamboo-pointed arrow would bother him much."

"Don't the savages kill game with out iron weapons?"

"Sure; but a lot have flint points, and a lot of others use poison. I know that the Apaches and some of those other southern Indians used to fix their arrows with rattlesnake poison."

"How horrible!"

"Well, that depends on how you look at it. I guess they thought guns more horrible when they tackled the whites and got the daylight let through 'em. At any rate, they swapped arrows for rifles, mighty quick, and anyone who knows Apaches will tell you it wasn't because they thought bullets would do less damage."

"Yet the thought of poison—"

"Yes; but the thought of self-preservation! Sooner than starve, I'd poison every animal in Africa—and so would you."

"—You put it in such a horrible way. One must consider others, animals as well as people; and yet—"

"Survival of the fittest. I've read some things, and I'm no fool, if I do say it myself. For instance, I'm the boss here, because I'm the fittest of our crowd in this environment; but back in what's called civilized parts, where the law lets a few shrewd fellows monopolize the means of production, a man like your father—"

"Mr. Blake; it is not my fault if papa's position in the business world—"

"Nor his, either—it's the cursed system! No; that's all right, Miss Jenny. I was only illustrating. Now, I take it, both you and Win would like to get rid of a boss like me, if you could get rid of Africa at the same time. As it is, though, I guess you'd rather have me for boss, and live, than be left all by your lonesomes, to starve."

"I'm sure there is no question of your leadership, Mr. Blake. We have both tried our best to do what you have asked of us."

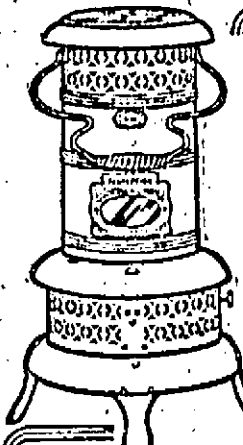

"You have, at least. But I know. If a ship should come to-morrow, it'd be Blake to the back seat. Papa, give this—or person a check for his services, while I chase off with Winnie, to get my look-in on 'is filial' likeness."

Miss Leslie flushed crimson—"I'm sure, Mr. Blake—"

"Oh, don't let that worry you, Miss Jenny. I don't care. I couldn't be so sore with you if I tried. Just the same, I know what it'll be like. I've rubbed elbows enough with snobs and big bugs to know what kind of consideration they give one of the maharajahs—unless, one of the maharajahs has the drop on them. Hello, Win! What's kept you so late?"

"None of your business!" snapped Winthrop.

Un Faux Pas!

A young gentleman living at X— was invited by his rich aunt to visit her in London. While walking with her along Victoria street he saw her bow to a gentleman in clerical attire. "Who was that, aunt?" he inquired. "That!" exclaimed the lady. "Why, that is the vicar of X—!" "Strange!" remarked the nephew, thoughtlessly. "I believe this is the first time I have seen him." "He has been vicar ten years!" was the reply.

Sure Healing.

Sure healing is not in the storm, or in the whirlwind; it is not in monasteries, or aristocracies, or democracies, but will be revealed by the still small voice that speaks to the conscience and the heart, prompting us to a wider and wiser humanity.—James Russell Lowell.

Height Not Grew to Art.

There is a story told that when Charles I. met Henrietta Maria at Dover he was rather surprised at her height, and cast his eyes down at her feet, no doubt supposing that she wore the absurdly high heels then in vogue. Henrietta Maria gazed at his thoughts and showed him her feet, saying: "Sir, I stand upon mine own feet, and have no help of art. Thus high I am, and I am no higher nor lower."

Art and Labor.

Art, properly so-called, is no recreation; it cannot be learned at spare moments, nor pursued when you have nothing better to do. It is no handiwork for drawing-room tables, no relief of the ennui of bourgeois; it must be understood and taken seriously or not at all. To advance it, men's lives must be given, and to receive it, their hearts.—John Ruskin.

Teeth of Sperm Whale.

A teacher writes that after instructing pupils for years that the toothless condition of the sperm whale accounted for the ability of Jonah to invade one without abrasion, she has been informed that the sperm whale has teeth, and wants to know if this is a fact. It is. The sperm whale has a score or more of teeth, according to age. These protrude at least two inches, making a really dangerous barrier to any scheme of using the place for a toboggan slide.

How to Be Miserable.

If you wish to be miserable think about yourself, about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you; and then to you nothing will be pure. You will spoil everything you touch, you will make misery for yourself out of everything which God sends you; you will be as wretched as you please.—Charles Kingsley.

How to Stop Drinking

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—Break it.

But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased and he must have treatment that will cure this condition. Orlino is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. Can be given secretly.

An Inherited Failing.
A native of Annam, Indo-China, sentenced in Paris for theft, wrote the following apology to his employer: "All Annamites, whether emperors, mandarins, secretaries, literary men and others, are born thieves. It is a grave and deadly complaint, and there is no cure for it. I know people do not like thieves in France, but it cannot be helped."

UNCLE SAM'S PROGRESSIVE MACHINERY NEW POWER PRESS
AT BOTTOM GEOMETRICAL LATHE AT TOP.

Washington.—During the past week the United States bureau of engraving and printing has been installing two marvelous machines, the inventions of which will do away with the work of many employes. The geometrical machine is one of the crowning features of American inventions. This wonderful apparatus produces automatically the intricate designs on the reverse of our greenbacks. It not only does this automatically, but does it in about one-tenth the time. This is the first photograph ever permitted to be made of the lathe.

The power press, operated by electricity will do the plate printing of our postage stamps, etc., many times as rapidly as has been possible to do it on the old-fashioned hand press, in exclusive use at the government printery.

Necessity is the mother of invention, and the same today as it has always been. When Uncle Sam found he was in need of immediate currency and unable to supply this, something had to be done, and the geometrical lathe is the result. With this machine he will be able far more efficiently to supply the hurry-up demands for greenbacks in case of a currency famine which sometimes occurs.

The director of the bureau of printing and engraving under whose progressive policy these machines have been adopted, deserves the greatest credit in keeping the United States far ahead of the other countries in the matter of a thoroughly equipped printing and engraving plant.
